

Open source : A Path to Transparency and Trust for e- voting

Anja Wyden Guelpa
State Chancellor,
Republic and canton of Geneva,
Switzerland

CHANCELLERIE D'ÉTAT

REPUBLIQUE
ET CANTON
DE GENEVE

POST TENEBRAS LUX

Chancellerie d'Etat

The swiss way of political expression

Switzerland is a Democratic Lab !

CHANCELLERIE D'ÉTAT

REPUBLIQUE
ET CANTON
DE GENEVE

POST TENEBRAS LUX

Chancellerie d'Etat

Page 2

Trust in its government is essential in a Democracy

Panel A. Confidence in national government, 2012 (%)

The Swiss population has more faith in its Institutions than any other countries (82% of trust)

CHANCELLERIE D'ÉTAT

REPUBLIQUE
ET CANTON
DE GENEVE

POST TENEBRAS LUX

Chancellerie d'Etat

Transparency builds trust

CHANCELLERIE D'ÉTAT

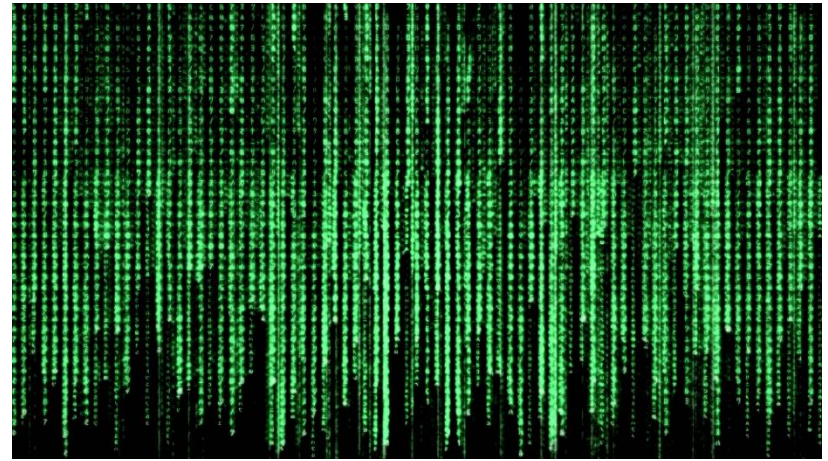

REPUBLIQUE
ET CANTON
DE GENEVE

POST TENEBRAS LUX

Chancellerie d'Etat

Page 4

From co-creation to the making of a common good

Co-creation is a formidable tool to collaborate, integrate and build trust in civic rights !

Conclusions

- Open source for e-voting engages us in a virtuous circle between transparency and trust.
- Open source in civic techs is the future of our civic rights
- Success relies on the cooperation between citizens and institutions

Thank you for your attention !

@AnjaWydenGuelpa

REPUBLIQUE
ET CANTON
DE GENEVE

POST TENEBRAS LUX

CHANCELLERIE D'ÉTAT

Chancellerie d'Etat

Page 9